ART PALACE.

Grecian-Ionic in style, the Fine Arts Building is a pure type of the most refined classic architecture. The structure comprises three large pavilions known as the Central, East and West Pavilion. Its total length, east and west, is 1,120 feet, and its extreme width, north and south, 500 feet. The Central Pavilion, an oblong building measuring 100x320 feet, is intersected by a great nave and a transept, each 100 feet wide and 70 feet high. At their intersection is a dome 60 feet in diameter and 125 feet high, surmounted by a colossal statue of the type of the famous figure of Winged Victory. The transept has a clear space through the center of 60 feet, being lighted entirely from above. On either side are galleries 20 feet wide and 24 feet above the floor. The collections of sculptures and architectural casts are displayed on the main floor of the nave and transept, and here also, on the walls, are shown drawings and sculptured panels in relief. The sections bounded by the nave and the transept are filled with picture galleries, ranging from 30x30 feet to 36x120 feet in area. The Central Pavilion is entered by four great portals, richly ornamented with architectural sculpture and approached by broad flights of steps. The East and West Pavilions have entrances from the Central Pavilion and on their north and south fronts. The walls of the loggia of the colonnades are highly decorated with sculptural fragments from the antique. All light is supplied through glass skylights in iron frames.

The building is located in the northern portion of the park, with the south front facing the lagoon, from which it is separated by terraces ornamented with balustrades. A flight of steps leads down from the main portal to the lagoon, where there is a landing for boats. The immediate neighborhood of the building is ornamented with groups of statues, replicas of classic art, such as the Choragic monument, etc. Architect, C. B. Atwood, of Chicago, Designer-in-Chief of the Exposition.
